Georgia Adamson, owner of A Successful Career, has created professional resumes, cover letters, executive bios, and other items for thousands of clients since 1993. She understands the expectations placed on candidates by employers and helps clients develop the tools to pursue desirable opportunities in their chosen field. Based on client testimonials and referrals, she has succeeded in helping many of her clients to make successful job and career changes in diverse fields, professions, and industries.

Currently, Georgia assists clients all over the USA and internationally to identify and communicate their value-added message. In addition, she has prepared and delivered workshops to diverse audiences, written a newspaper column and authored articles for several websites. Her work has appeared in 12 books, including Resume Magic, Cover Letter Magic, and Executive's Pocket Guide to ROI Resumes and Job Search.

Georgia believes that certifications can serve as validation of a commitment to excellence and encourages her clients to acquire appropriate certifications. Personally, she has earned several professional certifications, including Master Resume Writer (MRW), Academy Certified Resume Writer (ACRW), Certified Job Search Strategist (CJSS), and Certified Employment Interview Professional (CEIP).

Ivan Temes is masterful at personalizing interactions and bringing out the star within each person. He is a former APICS member and directed customer care worldwide working within companies including Levi's International, Apple, Grid, JBL and dotcoms. He has now led hundreds of confidence-building seminars for those in transition at career centers, shelters, universities and for the military. Ivan's book Care You Have the Power brings us inspiring relationship-building stories from successful CEOs, Steve Young, parents and employees from many venues. His innovative 'organizational healing' programs build trust within companies and focus on turning fear into productivity, teamwork, loyalty and customer satisfaction."

Leon Bezdikian has over 25 years of domestic and international Human Resources experience with high-tech companies. He specializes in executive coaching, management training, organizational development, talent acquisition and team building. Most recently, he serves as Vice President of Human Resources at Inphi, where he is responsible for leading and driving the company's Human Resources organization. Prior to Inphi, he has held senior level HR roles at SiBEAM, T-RAM, Virage Logic, SanDisk, and Storage Dimensions, as well as a five year management consulting practice.

Mr. Bezdikian teaches Human Resources at the University of California, Santa Cruz, Extension Program. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the University of California, Davis, and has completed the coursework for a Master of Arts in Theology from Santa Clara University.

Michelle Mendoza, founder of Connect to HR, is a Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR). Michelle has the knowledge and insider experience to help job seekers find their dream job fast.
